

ITC-AeroLeasing, Inc. expands leasing activities to Switzerland

ITC-AeroLeasing is glad to announce the expansion of its aircraft leasing and financing activities in Switzerland, with the lease of an Airbus H125 to a Swiss operator.

The aircraft will reinforce the operator's existing fleet, performing various types of missions, from mountain safety, logistics and construction work to VIP flights, HEMS, and rescue operations. This particular H125 will be dedicated to mountain aerial work such as avalanche prevention and material transportation.

The Airbus Helicopters H125 is a true multi-mission rotorcraft, one of the market-leading turbine helicopters in the single-engine category, capable of changing configurations in minutes. It has proven extremely popular in a range of roles, as the large cabin interior can easily be reconfigured, suiting operators requiring versatility, including for external lifting. The operational simplicity and superb performance of the H125, together with its enhanced aerial work capabilities and visibility mean that it is often the helicopter of choice for the Swiss Alps and similar mountainous terrain.

Mirika Nakayama, CEO of ITC-AeroLeasing, declared:

"ITC is excited to venture into this new partnership in Switzerland. We have leased/financed many aircraft in Europe over the past 25 years, ranging from essential airlines in France, to HEMS and Search and Rescue helicopters, and we are delighted to be able to expand our financial support to essential logistics and environmental safety missions in Switzerland."
